A CALMER GIFTING PRINTABLE

Thank-You Notes, Kindly Worded

Gratitude doesn't need fancy words — it needs honest ones. These fill-in-the-blank templates get a kind note written in two minutes, so “I really should thank them” becomes “it's already in the mailbox.”

How to use it

1. Pick the template that fits: classic, short & sweet, for kids to copy, for someone who helped, or for a gift that wasn't quite a fit.
2. Copy it onto any card or paper. The words work handwritten or typed.
3. Fill the blanks with one true thing — a detail beats a paragraph.
4. Sign it the way you'd say it out loud. “Love, Sam” counts.
5. Keep track of who's still owed a note on the Cards You Owe sheet.

What's inside

- Page 2 — the classic, short & sweet, and kids' templates.
- Page 3 — help-sent and not-quite-a-fit templates, plus kind wording tips.

> A kind note: a thank-you doesn't have to be prompt to be real. A warm note three weeks late still lands. The only truly lost thank-you is the one never sent.

Thank-You Note Templates

Fill the blanks with one true thing. That's the whole trick.

1. The classic (for a gift)

Dear _____,

Thank you so much for _____.

It was so kind of you to think of me — and I'll think of you

_____.

With thanks, _____

2. Short & sweet (when time is short)

Dear _____,

Thank you for _____ — it truly made my day.

You're thoughtful, and I'm grateful. _____

3. For kids to copy (with grown-up help if wanted)

Dear _____,

Thank you for my _____!

My favorite part is _____.

Love, _____ (age _____)

For the Trickier Moments

Warm words for the notes that are a little harder to start.

4. For someone who helped (not a gift — a kindness)

Dear _____,

Thank you for _____. It helped more than you probably know.

Kindness like yours is worth writing down, so here it is, in ink. _____

5. When a gift wasn't quite a fit (graceful, honest, kind)

Dear _____,

Thank you for thinking of me — it genuinely means a lot that you did.

I'm looking forward to _____ together soon.

Warmly, _____

6. Long-distance (for a gift that arrived in a box)

Dear _____,

Your package made the whole day feel like a small holiday.

_____ is already a favorite.

Miles apart, grateful anyway. _____

Kind wording tips

- Name the gift or kindness specifically — “the blue scarf” beats “the gift.”
- Say what happens next: how you'll use it, where it will live, when you'll think of them.
- Keep it short. Two honest sentences outshine a polite essay.
- For kids, one dictated sentence plus a drawing is a perfect note.
